105 internal links are broken

105 0

About this issue: Broken internal links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken.
Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.
If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

3 pages returned 4XX status code

3 0

About this issue: A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability.
This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it. This usually happens due to the following reasons: 1.
DDoS protection system. 2. Overloaded or misconfigured server.
How to fix: If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page. If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following: 1.
Contact your web hosting support team. 2. Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt.

3 incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml

3 0

About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1.
lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage.
3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected.
How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

3 structured data items are invalid

3 0

About this issue: This issue is triggered if structured data items contain fields that do not meet Google's guidelines https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article. Implementing and maintaining your structured data correctly is important if you want to get an edge over your competitors in search results. If your website markup has errors, crawlers will not be able to properly understand it, and you may run the risk of losing the chance of gaining rich snippets and getting more favorable rankings.

For more information on the structured data requirements, see https://schema.org, Google documentation https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article or our article https://www.semrush.com/kb/1084-structured-data-items-site-audit. How to fix: Check structured data on your webpages with a validation tool. Please note that different markup testing tools may show different results.

We recommend that you use the Rich Results Test tool https://search.google.com/test/rich-results to review and validate your pages' structured data against their rich snippet requirements.

1 internal image is broken

1 0

About this issue: An internal broken image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists, its URL is misspelled, or because the file path is not valid. Broken images may jeopardize your search rankings because they provide a poor user experience and signal to search engines that your page is low quality. How to fix: To fix a broken internal image, perform one of the following: 1.

If an image is no longer located in the same location, change its URL. 2. If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one.

3. If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code.

288 issues with unminified JavaScript and CSS files

288 ⬤0

About this issue: Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code. Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings. For more information, please see this Google article https://developers.google.com/web/fundamentals/performance/optimizing-content-efficiency. How to fix: Minify your JavaScript and CSS files. If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files. If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

125 URLs with a temporary redirect

125 ⬤0

About this issue: Temporary redirects (i.e., a 302 and a 307 redirect) mean that a page has been temporarily moved to a new location. Search engines will continue to index the redirected page, and no link juice or traffic is passed to the new page, which is why temporary redirects can damage your search rankings if used by mistake. How to fix: Review all URLs to make sure the use of 302 and 307 redirects is justified.

If so, don't forget to remove them when they are no longer needed. However, if you permanently move any page, replace a 302/307 redirect with a 301/308 one.

27 pages have low text-HTML ratio

27 ⬤0

About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content.

That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.

How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

20 pages have duplicate H1 and title tags

20 ⬤0

About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page.

For more information, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

71 URLs with a permanent redirect

71 ⓪

About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users.
How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

56 pages have only one incoming internal link

56 ⓪

About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them.
How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

12 pages are blocked from crawling

12 ⓪

5 links on this page have no anchor text

5 ⓪

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page.
So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide

2 subdomains don't support HSTS

2 ⓪

1 page has more than one H1 tag

1 ⓪

1 orphaned page in sitemaps

1 ⓪

About this issue: An orphaned page is a webpage that is not linked to internally. Including orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files is considered to be a bad practice, as these pages will be crawled by search engines. Crawling outdated orphaned pages will waste your crawl budget. If an orphaned page in your sitemap.xml file has valuable content, we recommend that you link to it internally. How to fix: Review all orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files and do either of the following: If a page is no longer needed, remove it; If a page has valuable content and brings traffic to your website, link to it from another page on your website; If a page serves a specific need and requires no internal linking, leave it as is.

1 link to external page or resource returns a 403 HTTP status code

1 0

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a crawler gets a 403 code when trying to access an external webpage or resource via a link on your site. A 403 HTTP status code is returned if a user is not allowed to access the resource for some reason. In the case of crawlers, this usually means that a crawler is being blocked from accessing content at the server level.

How to fix: Check that the page is available to browsers and search engines. To do this, follow a link in your browser and check the Google Search Console data. 1.

If a page or resource is not available, contact the owner of the external website to restore deleted content or change the link on your page. 2. If a page is available but our bot is blocked from accessing it, you can ask the external website owner to unblock the page, so we can check all resources correctly.

You can also hide this issue from your list.

4xx errors

ℹ About this issue: A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability. This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it. This usually happens due to the following reasons: 1. DDoS protection system. 2. Overloaded or misconfigured server. How to fix: If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page. If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following: 1. Contact your web hosting support team. 2. Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt

Invalid structured data items

ℹ About this issue: This issue is triggered if structured data items contain fields that do not meet Google's guidelines https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article. Implementing and maintaining your structured data correctly is important if you want to get an edge over your competitors in search results. If your website markup has errors, crawlers will not be able to properly understand it, and you may run the risk of losing the chance of gaining rich snippets and getting more favorable rankings. For more information on the structured data requirements, see https://schema.org, Google documentation https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article or our article https://www.semrush.com/kb/1084-structured-data-items-site-audit. How to fix: Check structured data on your webpages with a validation tool. Please note that different markup testing tools may show different results. We recommend that you use the Rich Results Test tool https://search.google.com/test/rich-results to review and validate your pages' structured data against their rich snippet requirements.

Incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml

ⓘ About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1. lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage. 3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected. How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

Broken internal images

ℹ About this issue: An internal broken image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists, its URL is misspelled, or because the file path is not valid. Broken images may jeopardize your search rankings because they provide a poor user experience and signal to search engines that your page is low quality. How to fix: To fix a broken internal image, perform one of the following: 1. If an image is no longer located in the same location, change its URL. 2. If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one. 3. If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code

Unminified JavaScript and CSS files

ⓘ About this issue: Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code. Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings. For more information, please see this Google article https://developers.google.com/web/fundamentals/performance/optimizing-content-efficiency. How to fix: Minify your JavaScript and CSS files. If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files. If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

Temporary redirects

ⓘ About this issue: Temporary redirects (i.e., a 302 and a 307 redirect) mean that a page has been temporarily moved to a new location. Search engines will continue to index the redirected page, and no link juice or traffic is passed to the new page, which is why temporary redirects can damage your search rankings if used by mistake. How to fix: Review all URLs to make sure the use of 302 and 307 redirects is justified. If so, don't forget to remove them when they are no longer needed. However, if you permanently move any page, replace a 302/307 redirect with a 301/308 one.

Low text to HTML ratio

ⓘ About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

Duplicate content in h1 and title

ℹ️ About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page. For more information, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

Permanent redirects

ⓘ About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users. How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

Links with no anchor text

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page. So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0

No HSTS support

ℹ About this issue: HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support. How to fix: Use a server that supports HSTS.

Orphaned sitemap pages

About this issue: An orphaned page is a webpage that is not linked to internally. Including orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files is considered to be a bad practice, as these pages will be crawled by search engines. Crawling outdated orphaned pages will waste your crawl budget. If an orphaned page in your sitemap.xml file has valuable content, we recommend that you link to it internally. How to fix: Review all orphaned pages in your sitemap.xml files and do either of the following: If a page is no longer needed, remove it; If a page has valuable content and brings traffic to your website, link to it from another page on your website; If a page serves a specific need and requires no internal linking, leave it as is.

External pages or resources with 403 HTTP status code ⓘ About this issue: This issue is triggered if a crawler gets a 403 code when trying to access an external webpage or resource via a link on your site. A 403 HTTP status code is returned if a user is not allowed to access the resource for some reason. In the case of crawlers, this usually means that a crawler is being blocked from accessing content at the server level. How to fix: Check that the page is available to browsers and search engines. To do this, follow a link in your browser and check the Google Search Console data. 1. If a page or resource is not available, contact the owner of the external website to restore deleted content or change the link on your page. 2. If a page is available but our bot is blocked from accessing it, you can ask the external website owner to unblock the page, so we can check all resources correctly. You can also hide this issue from your list.
