4 pages returned 4XX status code

4 0

About this issue: A 4xx error means that a webpage cannot be accessed. This is usually the result of broken links. These errors prevent users and search engine robots from accessing your webpages, and can negatively affect both user experience and search engine crawlability.
This will in turn lead to a drop in traffic driven to your website. Please be aware that crawler may detect a working link as broken if your website blocks our crawler from accessing it. This usually happens due to the following reasons: 1.
DDoS protection system. 2. Overloaded or misconfigured server.
How to fix: If a webpage returns an error, remove all links leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. To identify all pages on your website that contain links to a 4xx page, click "View broken links" next to the error page. If the links reported as 4xx do work when accessed with a browser, you can try either of the following: 1.
Contact your web hosting support team. 2. Instruct search engine robots not to crawl your website too frequently by specifying the "crawl-delay" directive in your robots.txt.

3 internal links are broken

3 0

About this issue: Broken internal links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken.
Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.
If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

2 issues with duplicate title tags

2 0

About this issue: Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate title tags only if they are exact matches. Duplicate <title> tags make it difficult for search engines to determine which of a website's pages is relevant for a specific search query, and which one should be prioritized in search results. Pages with duplicate titles have a lower chance of ranking well and are at risk of being banned.
Moreover, identical <title> tags confuse users as to which webpage they should follow. How to fix: Provide a unique and concise title for each of your pages that contains your most important keywords. For information on how to create effective titles, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624.

2 pages have duplicate content issues

2 ⓪

About this issue: Webpages are considered duplicates if their content is 85% identical. Having duplicate content may significantly affect your SEO performance. First of all, Google will typically show only one duplicate page, filtering other instances out of its index and search results, and this page may not be the one you want to rank.

In some cases, search engines may consider duplicate pages as an attempt to manipulate search engine rankings and, as a result, your website may be downgraded or even banned from search results. Moreover, duplicate pages may dilute your link profile. How to fix.

Here are a few ways to fix duplicate content issues: 1. Add a rel="canonical" link to one of your duplicate pages to inform search engines which page to show in search results. 2.

Use a 301 redirect from a duplicate page to the original one. 3. Use a rel="next" and a rel="prev" link attribute to fix pagination duplicates.

4. Instruct GoogleBot to handle URL parameters differently using Google Search Console. 5. Provide some unique content on the webpage. For more information, please read these articles: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/66359?hl=en and https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/139066?hl=en.

2 pages have duplicate meta descriptions

2 ⓪

About this issue: Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate meta descriptions only if they are exact matches. A <meta description> tag is a short summary of a webpage's content that helps search engines understand what the page is about and can be shown to users in search results. Duplicate meta descriptions on different pages mean a lost opportunity to use more relevant keywords.

Also, duplicate meta descriptions make it difficult for search engines and users to differentiate between different webpages. It is better to have no meta description at all than to have a duplicate one. How to fix: Provide a unique, relevant meta description for each of your webpages.

For information on how to create effective meta descriptions, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624 .

2 structured data items are invalid

2 ⓪

About this issue: This issue is triggered if structured data items contain fields that do not meet Google's guidelines https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article. Implementing and maintaining your structured data correctly is important if you want to get an edge over your competitors in search results. If your website markup has errors, crawlers will not be able to properly understand it, and you may run the risk of losing the chance of gaining rich snippets and getting more favorable rankings.

For more information on the structured data requirements, see https://schema.org, Google documentation https://developers.google.com/search/docs/data-types/article or our article https://www.semrush.com/kb/1084-structured-data-items-site-audit. How to fix: Check structured data on your webpages with a validation tool. Please note that different markup testing tools may show different results.

We recommend that you use the Rich Results Test tool https://search.google.com/test/rich-results to review and validate your pages' structured data against their rich snippet requirements.

1 internal image is broken

1 ⓪

About this issue: An internal broken image is an image that can't be displayed because it no longer exists, its URL is misspelled, or because the file path is not valid. Broken images may jeopardize your search rankings because they provide a poor user experience and signal to search engines that your page is low quality. How to fix: To fix a broken internal image, perform one of the following: 1.

If an image is no longer located in the same location, change its URL. 2. If an image was deleted or damaged, replace it with a new one.

3. If an image is no longer needed, simply remove it from your page's code.

1 incorrect page found in sitemap.xml

1 0

About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1.
lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage.
3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected.
How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

1 page has a broken canonical link

1 0

About this issue: By setting a rel="canonical" element on your page, you can inform search engines of which version of a page you want to show up in search results. When using canonical tags, it is important to make sure that the URL you include in your rel="canonical" element leads to a page that actually exists. Canonical links that lead to non-existent webpages complicate the process of crawling and indexing your content and, as a result, decrease crawling efficiency and lead to unnecessary crawl budget waste.
How to fix: Review all broken canonical links. If a canonical URL applies to a non-existent webpage, remove it or replace it with another resource.

995 issues with unminified JavaScript and CSS files

995 ⓪

About this issue: Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code. Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings. For more information, please see this Google article https://developers.google.com/web/fundamentals/performance/optimizing-content-efficiency. How to fix: Minify your JavaScript and CSS files. If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files. If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

---

200 URLs with a temporary redirect

200 ⓪

About this issue: Temporary redirects (i.e., a 302 and a 307 redirect) mean that a page has been temporarily moved to a new location. Search engines will continue to index the redirected page, and no link juice or traffic is passed to the new page, which is why temporary redirects can damage your search rankings if used by mistake. How to fix: Review all URLs to make sure the use of 302 and 307 redirects is justified.
If so, don't forget to remove them when they are no longer needed. However, if you permanently move any page, replace a 302/307 redirect with a 301/308 one.

92 images don't have alt attributes

92 ⓪

About this issue: Alt attributes within <img> tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results. Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers.
For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly: https://webmasters.googleblog.com/2007/12/using-alt-attributes-smartly.html and Google Image Publishing Guidelines: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/114016?hl=en. How to fix: Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an <img> tag for each image on your website, e.g., "<img src="mylogo.png" alt="This is my company logo">".

27 pages have low text-HTML ratio

27 ⓪

About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content.
That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.
How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

21 pages have duplicate H1 and title tags

21 ⓪

About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page.
For more information, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

494 URLs with a permanent redirect

494 0

About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users.
How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

200 links on this page have no anchor text

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page.
So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0.

77 pages have only one incoming internal link

About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them.
How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

Incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml

ℹ️ About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file. This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that: 1. lead to webpages with the same content. 2. redirect to a different webpage. 3. return non-200 status code. Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected. How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

Unminified JavaScript and CSS files

ℹ️ About this issue: Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code. Minifying JavaScript and CSS files makes their size smaller, thereby decreasing your page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings. For more information, please see this Google article https://developers.google.com/web/fundamentals/performance/optimizing-content-efficiency. How to fix: Minify your JavaScript and CSS files. If your webpage uses CSS and JS files that are hosted on an external site, contact the website owner and ask them to minify their files. If this issue doesn't affect your page load time, simply ignore it.

Temporary redirects

ⓘ About this issue: Temporary redirects (i.e., a 302 and a 307 redirect) mean that a page has been temporarily moved to a new location. Search engines will continue to index the redirected page, and no link juice or traffic is passed to the new page, which is why temporary redirects can damage your search rankings if used by mistake. How to fix: Review all URLs to make sure the use of 302 and 307 redirects is justified. If so, don't forget to remove them when they are no longer needed. However, if you permanently move any page, replace a 302/307 redirect with a 301/308 one.

Missing ALT attributes

ℹ️ About this issue: Alt attributes within <img> tags are used by search engines to understand the contents of your images. If you neglect alt attributes, you may miss the chance to get a better placement in search results because alt attributes allow you to rank in image search results. Not using alt attributes also negatively affects the experience of visually impaired users and those who have disabled images in their browsers. For more information, please see these articles: Using ALT attributes smartly: https://webmasters.googleblog.com/2007/12/using-alt-attributes-smartly.html and Google Image Publishing Guidelines: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/114016?hl=en. How to fix: Specify a relevant alternative attribute inside an <img> tag for each image on your website, e.g., "<img src="mylogo.png" alt="This is my company logo">".

Low text to HTML ratio

ℹ️ About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

Duplicate content in h1 and title

ⓘ About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page. For more information, please see this Google article: https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

Permanent redirects

ℹ About this issue: Although using permanent redirects (a 301 or 308 redirect) is appropriate in many situations (for example, when you move a website to a new domain, redirect users from a deleted page to a new one, or handle duplicate content issues), we recommend that you keep them to a reasonable minimum. Every time you redirect one of your website's pages, it decreases your crawl budget, which may run out before search engines can crawl the page you want to be indexed. Moreover, too many permanent redirects can be confusing to users. How to fix: Review all URLs with a permanent redirect. Change permanent redirects to a target page URL where possible.

Links with no anchor text

ⓘ About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page. So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0

ⓘ About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them. How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.
